

THE SCIENCE OF MORE UPTIME

Early Intervention Programs

Employees often experience physiological stress and overuse due to the cumulative effects of work, everyday activities, and age-related functional decline. Our Early Intervention Programs proactively identify and address these early warning signs before they progress into debilitating injuries.

How it Works

Early Intervention Programs serve to mitigate early warning signs of occupational injury through strategic on-site medical care and are developed, managed, and maintained by BIOKINETIX.

Much like athletic trainers work with professional athletes to keep them on the field, we work with your employees to help them stay conditioned on the job.

Our licensed athletic trainers provide one-on-one support to employees in the workplace setting to evaluate both work-related and non-work-related issues, then create personalized plans to address employees' individual needs that include:

- Conditioning exercise
- Ergonomics coaching
- Health and wellness suggestions
